Course   : IT project management

I am a college student from Universitas Indonesia (UI) and my study program is computer engineering. I am now in semester 8, so I'm working on my final assignment. At my age, I need to have a clear goal in life for the next few years. I have set a life plan to achieving success. The following is my life plan for next years.

a. Graduated S1 from Computer Engineering UI

Getting a bachelor's degree (S1) in computer engineering at UI is my goal in the near future. A bachelor's degree (S1) is the title I have wanted for a long time. This is because becoming a scholar will help in getting a job, looking for relationships, getting more recognition, and several other benefits. A bachelor's degree is the beginning for me to achieve success in the future. In addition, the computer engineering study program has trained my skills, especially in the field of Information Technology (IT). This field is an area that is needed by every company, thus increasing my chances of getting a job and gaining experience. In IT field, I hope to be full stack website developer who has great skill in technical or non-technical.

b. Work in Company

After getting my bachelor's degree (S1), I will look for work in a company to gain work experience. I want to work in a company for 2-3 years, so that I have a lot of work experience. Working in a team and being responsible for the job desk is a form of my training on working effectively and efficiently. Besides that, it will also provide me with experience regarding how to work project management. This work experience will be the start for me to build a start-up team in my hometown.

c. Build a Startup

After getting enough work experience, I want to build a team to make a start-up in my hometown. The experience that I have will be an asset for me in building a strong, solid, and responsible team. One of the start-up ideas that I want to establish is the Software House, as my wish to contribute to regional development, so that local people in my hometown understand more about current technology.

d. Make Parents Proud of Me

After having a job and a start-up, I hope to make my parents proud of me based on the achievements I have made. My parents pride in me became a measure of my success until then. Besides that, obeying all the hopes and wishes of my parents is my target from now on.

e. Marriage

Marriage is one of the targets in my life plan that I have designed. I hope to get married at the age of 27-29 years after having a good career and income. Marriage at that age is an ideal for me, because I am an adult, have a decent job, and have a stable income.

f. Hajj

As a Muslim, one of my wishes in my life plan is to do Hajj. Having achieved some of the wishes and hopes in previous years, the Hajj was a good time. Apart from that, performing the Hajj has become an obligation for me if I have achieved success.

Some of the things above are my life plans that I have made for me to achieve in the next few years. I hope to achieve all the targets that I have set with hard work, discipline and full responsibility.
